Since October 2006 Oliver Fox has been an active member of the shanghai jazz community. As a freelance artist he has performed in many different cities throughout China. Born in 1979 in Berlin, Germany, Oliver Fox started to play the flute at the age of nine. Three years later he changed to the saxophone which became his main instrument. He began his professional music career at the age of 16, playing with local jazz musicians and various big bands like the Berlin Youth Jazz Orchestra. In 2000 he began to study Jazz-Saxophone at the State Music High School of Mainz. From 2003 to 2004 he studied in Graz (Austria) with Heinrich von Kalnein where he performed regularly and was involved in many musical projects. In 2005 he went to study classical Indian music in Chennai, India, granted by the DAAD (German Academic Exchange Service). In 2003, he won the yearly award of the "Zukunftsinitiative Rheinland-Pfalz" with his duo partner, pianist Olaf Taranczewski. Besides playing in jazz clubs and jazz festivals around Germany, he has also performed for the President of the Federal Republic of Germany.
